Leonard Carillo | Upright Bass/Electric Bass

Leonard started playing at the young age of twelve years old performing in the local music scene playing at weddings, corporate events, grand openings etc. As Leonard progressed with his craft he began touring the US and Europe with a number of national recording artist supporting their recordings. His passion for music and its' ability to move people emotional and spiritually drove him to explore a variety of styles of music. He has enjoyed the opportunity to perform rock to jazz and everything in between and loves the challenges that the styles bring. His influences are wide and include Paul McCartney, Brian Bromberg, to John Clayton, among others.

Dave Eaton | Guitars/Vocals

Dave began playing guitar during a time we now refer to as the British Invasion. Living in Southern California, folk clubs, discotheques and concert venues were plentiful and as some measure of innate talent began to emerge, he jumped right in. (During this time he also began playing mandolin, banjo and bass as well.) Through the years he has toured with various groups playing throughout the US, Fiji, Australia & New Zealand. Influences range from James Taylor to Earl Klugh and from Stevie Ray Vaughn to Larry Carlton.

Jeff Janssen | Drums

Jeff is an introvert with very noisy vocations. He has been playing drums and percussion (and moving equipment) since 1969. His mother said he should play the flute: "Even the tuba player only has one case!" As a student of music as an art form, he's played in symphony orchestras, big bands, brass ensembles, polka bands, musical stage productions, funk/dance bands, rock party cover bands, and blues jams throughout the West Coast.

Matt Braswell | Saxophone/Vocals

Exposed to music as a child by his piano playing uncle, Matt picked up the saxophone in middle school and took to the instrument immediately. Matt has played and recorded with bands in the Sacramento area over the last 15 years covering musical genres such as Praise, Rock, Swing, Funk, Soul, Jazz and Blues. Matt has also established himself as a talented vocalist singing in bands and hosting karaoke. He owned and operated a small entertainment company in Sacramento, which provided the area with some of the best karaoke shows and live entertainment.
